Breidert expects census to give Frankfort 3,200

FRANKFORT — The Village Board of Trustees covered a wide range of subjects at its meeting Monday night, from annexation to water.

On the recommendation of Burton Breidert, business administrator for the village, the board authorized a special census and will make the necessary arrangements with the Census Bureau to have it taken.

The population figure, according to the 1970 census, was approximately 2,300. Breidert said that from the sources available it is estimated that the present population figure is estimated at approximately 3,200.

Whatever the gain is, it was pointed out, the expense would be offset many times through the gain in revenue from the village's share of the state motor fuel tax and the state income tax, which are shared with municipalities on a per capita cost. The greater the head count the more money for the village.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, head of streets, said that if the present population is around 3,200 the village will get about $7,000 more a year in motor fuel tax money.

On streets he reported he was preparing to spend some $6,000 from the road and bridge fund on the repair of a portion of several thoroughfares. The state highway department, he explained, will maintain only the center portions of its roads, leaving the part where cars park as a municipal job.

Kohlhausen said he plans to surface these parking strips along both sides of Nebraska Street from Oak Street east to Ash Street with two inches of blacktop; the east side of White Street from Nebraska Street north to the railroad crossing, and the west side of Ash Street between Nebraska and Kansas Streets.

The board also approved a motion by Trustee Donald Stupp to have Village Attorney August J. Santoro draw up an ordinance for parallel parking on Nebraska and White Streets, and that the state highway department be notified.

Breidert had said that the state had indicated it would approve such action and give the village control over parking on village and state arterial roads.

The question of parallel parking versus diagonal, which was raised at a recent board meeting, was referred to Breidert to get an opinion on the matter from the business people. Breidert reported that seven had responded in favor of parallel parking, five were for diagonal and two were uncommitted.

He added that parallel parking was carried on Nebraska and White Streets. He thought that perhaps diagonal parking should be retained on Ash and Oak Streets, between Kansas and Nebraska Streets, but parallel parking be used elsewhere in the business area. He figured that parallel parking would result in the loss of 24 parking spaces.

"Where are people going to park?" Trustee Richard Trevartha wanted to know.

Breidert answered that people could use the municipal lot at Nebraska and Hickory Streets and it was hoped the village would be able to eventually get more space for off-street parking. The matter is to be discussed again before any final ordinance is drawn, it was decided.

An ordinance annexing parcels sold off of the Ludwig property east of Center Road north of the airport, totaling 30 acres, was adopted.

The board also approved the filing of a petition with the village Zoning Board of Appeals to amend an existing ordinance so that all electrical and plumbing work will be done according to the BOCA code.

Now everything, residential, commercial and industrial buildings will come under BOCA. The idea back of this is that BOCA engineers will now review all plans for commercial and industrial structures, Trustee Howard Osmus explained.

The board also will file a petition with the zoning board for approval of an ordinance providing for contributions to the grade and high school districts from subdividers. Some members demurred, saying they wanted more time to study the proposed ordinance. New Lenox and Mokena village boards adopted the ordinance some time ago.

"It is a question of policy," Santoro pointed out. "We have a good subdivision ordinance now. It provides for contributions to the library and the park districts, and requires lots with 90-foot frontage. You must decide if you want to risk this for the schools. Granted that the schools need more money but perhaps the legislature should give it to them instead of the subdividers."

"Anything that could jeopardize our growth is a matter of policy for the board to form," Santoro said.

Stupp said it should be considered that as the community grows it will mean more population for the schools too, which will add greatly to their burdens and perhaps the developers should contribute.

Breidert wanted to know if developers refused to pay and went to court, as he said he heard one developer threaten, who was going to pay for the court battle. Santoro said if the village were ever taken to court in such a case he would advise "no defense."

Mayor Warning intervened to say that the matter would be discussed at a later meeting.

The board approved filing the petition with the zoning board when it meets Sept. 20 after Santoro said he would ask the hearing be continued until its Oct. 18 meeting. This will give the board time for further study of the ordinance.

The board is negotiating for a piece of property, 200 by 300 feet, off Center Road near Laraway Road as a site for a water reservoir or tank. When Kankakee River water is pumped to the area, it was reported, it will be along Laraway Road or the E.J. & E. tracks.

A hassle between the village board and the Frankfort Fire Protection District, involving jurisdiction in the extension of existing or the installation of new water mains and hydrants, was attributed to lack of communication. The fire district enacted an ordinance in June, 1971, giving it jurisdiction in such cases.

Before such plans can be carried out by the village they must first be approved by the Fire Protection District and in the case of an installation job now going on it is alleged this was not done. The fire department allegedly stopped the job. The affair has been settled amicably.

Chief Bruce Wells and Assistant Chief Milton Batson appeared at the board meeting for the fire department and furnished each of the members with copies of the ordinance and the fire code of the district. Hereafter, all plans for new water lines or changes in lines or hydrants will get approval first by the fire district.

Trustee Klier reported that a 44-foot section of trunk sewer under the highway and west of U.S. 45 is crushed, according to the inspection by closed circuit TV, and a 15-inch pipe is almost choked by roots.

A major operation is indicated, it was said.

He also reported that the buffalo boxes for the water system in Colorado Hills subdivision are supposed to be eight feet from the property line but that they are every place but the right place. The contractor will be notified to put them right.

Christmas or tax bills first?

WILL COUNTY — You probably will not have to wait until Christmas to get your Will County tax bill. Prospects now are that they will be forthcoming next month.

Monday, the Will County Board of Review signed the assessors books and sent them to the county clerk's office. The abstract has gone to the State Department of Revenue for verification and assignment of a multiplying factor, if any.

It was believed that Will County will get a factor of "one" which is the goal of Oren Pomeroy, Jr., Supervisor of Assessments.

A factor of one makes the assessed valuation, the valuation on which the tax bills are figured.

According to figures released by the Board of Review the total valuation of all real estate, personal property and railroads in Will County is over the billion dollar mark. The figure is $1,155,661,790.00. Of this amount $209,371,495.00 is personal property. Real estate total $946,184,020 and $106,275 in railroads.

With verification of the review body's figures the county clerk's office will begin the task of establishing the rates for each taxing body. The total of these rates is then used to multiply the evaluation on each individual's property to determine the amount of taxes he must pay.

Usually this takes about six weeks, but this year the Data Processing Division is to get into the act and it was expected the time to extend the taxes would be cut in half.

The next step is the preparation of bills and getting them to the taxpayers.

This has been a long year for the tax people in Will County. The assessments have been raised substantially in many instances with the result that so many people filed protests the Board of Review was swamped.

Whether real estates taxes will be paid in two installments or one hasn't been decided by the county board and the State's Attorney's office at this date.

Personal property taxes have always been paid in a lump sum. Real Estate taxes were normally due June 1 and Sept. 1 and personal property taxes June 1.

Taxing bodies which have been borrowing money to finance their operations, hope that the use of data processing doesn't foul up the works and delay the payments any longer.

Residents to protest proposed rate jump

FRANKFORT SQUARE — Hearing date on the petition of Prestwick Utilities Company before Illinois Commerce Commission Examiner David B. Selig has been set for 10 a.m. Sept. 20. The hearing room is on the 19th floor of the State of Illinois Building at 160 N. La Salle St., Chicago.

The rates proposed by the utility firm were scheduled to become effective Sept. 1 but were temporarily denied by the ICC, pending a hearing.

Residents of the Frankfort Square are expected to turn out for the hearing in numbers, contending that the proposed rate for sewer and water service are too high. The minimum bill under these rates, it was brought out, would be $13.09 a month, $6.44 for water and $6.65 for sewer service. Present rates are $4.75 a month for sewer service. The present water rate is $1.15 for the first 12,000 gallons. The proposed $6.44 rate would be for the first 4,000 gallons.

Prestwick Utilities serves residents of Prestwick as well as Frankfort Square so the new rates would apply there also, it was said. The proposed water meter rate for Frankfort Square and Prestwick is $1.61 per 1,000 for the first 4,000 gallons; the next 4,000 gallons is $1.26 per thousand; the next 12,000 gallons $1.05 per thousand; the next 20,000 gallons 84 cents per thousand, and over 40,000 gallons, 49 cents per thousand, per month. The utility firm now operates two sewage treatment plants, one in Frankfort Square and one in Prestwick.

The proposed rates, residents complain, are higher than those in other communities in the area, Frankfort, Mokena and Arbury Hills.

Five recycle centers

NEW LENOX — The Lincoln-Way Area Recycling Co-op will operate five recycling centers this year manned by students, faculty members and interested citizens, according to Ron Olson, of the Agriculture Department of Lincoln-Way High.

The centers will be at Lincoln-Way High School; Oakview Junior High at New Lenox; Willowcrest Junior High at Mokena; Frankfort Grade School and Arbury Hills School. The centers will be open the third Saturday of each month from 9 a.m. to noon, beginning Sept. 16.

Those in charge ask residents to save the material that can be recycled and bring it to one of the centers every month. Olson lists the materials that can be recycled: Newspapers and comic books; must be tied or sacked; magazines not acceptable.

Bottles: must be rinsed out; labels can be left on but any metals must be removed; bottles must be sorted by color and boxed or sacked.

Aluminum. All seamless cans are aluminum. Pie pans, foils and other sources of aluminum will be accepted. Separate aluminum from other materials.

Tin, steel and bimetal cans: these have a side seam; paper labels must be removed and cans washed out and flattened.

Auto batteries will be accepted. Participation in the recycling project will save many of the natural resources, Olson pointed out.

Conservation dist. offers films

By Virginia Sass
WILL-SOUTH COOK COUNTY — "Learning About Conservation", a set of six captioned filmstrips, heads the list of visual aids being offered now to educators on loan, free of charge by the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District.

Each filmstrip has about 50 frames and runs from 10 to 12 minutes. Titles are: "Some Problems We Face", "Our Soil", "Our Water and Air", and "Our Forests", "Our Grasslands", and "Our Mineral and Energy Resources".

The illustrative photographs show young people participating in a multitude of everyday situations which involve them directly or indirectly in conservation.

Lists of visual aids which cover the filmstrips, slide sets with narratives and a wound movie, may be obtained from the office of the Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District, 100 Manhattan Road, Joliet, phone 815-723-5078.

William Stelter, district chairman, said today that it is important that school administrators and teachers plan now, at the beginning of the school term, to use conservation in their programs throughout the year. Conservation need not be taught as a single subject, but in correlation with other subjects. To help educators put conservation in the curriculum, the District has conservation teaching guidelines at grade levels, K-12, free of charge upon request. Informational booklets are available from the District office on all the natural resources. Coloring books, workbooks, book marks, song sheets, and other handouts may be obtained for students.

Important facts for every bicyclist

"It's the thing to do" . . . and adults are rediscovering a sport that never lost its popularity with youngsters — bicycling.

But bicycling can also create safety problems, says the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Insurance Companies.

Approximately 880 bicyclists are likely to be killed this year in bicycle-automobile accidents, according to the National Safety Council. Such fatalities have risen steadily in recent years, from 490 in 1961 to 850 last year. An estimated 130 additional bicycle-related deaths are predicted.

The Institute estimates 1,040,000 bicycle-related injuries occur annually. More than 75 million people ride bicycles now, compared with 55 million in the late 1960s.

The Institute urges adherence to these common sense safety precautions to help eliminate many bicycle accidents. Learn to ride well — practice in a safe area away from traffic.

Choose the correct bicycle size.

Bicycles are intended for use on lightly-traveled roads.

Bicycles are prohibited on many highways and expressways.

Obeys all traffic rules and regulations: at lights, stop signs, intersections, and one-way streets.

Bicyclists must ride single file on roadways.

Only one person on a bicycle (except tandems) — no riders.

Bicyclists must not "hook" rides on other moving vehicles.

Every bicycle must have a bell or horn and a brake or brakes in good condition.

For after dark use, bicycles must have a reflector or red tail light that is visible from 300 feet and a front headlamp that is visible from 500 feet.

Volunteers to seek runaways

By Gertrude Gallagher

ORLAND PARK — A troubled youth in the area of a phone number, a place to go, and someone to talk to in crisis time.

"We are going to focus on runaways," said Don McIntyre, past executive director of the "Volunteer Network". The Network is a newly formed volunteer service group operating in the general area of Sandburg High School for troubled youths who need help. A study by McIntyre showed a need for such a service in the area.

In a recent meeting of the executive committee composed of professional youth workers the decision was made to give the 'go ahead' to the program. Initially, it will be geared toward helping the youth who are driven to run away from home.

Tinley Park police reported 85 runaways last year, and Orland Park police report 8 runaways during the first three months of this year.

McIntyre said, "We are trying to provide a place for the kid where he can come to get immediate help. We can give him one night's lodging and then try to negotiate between him and his parents. There are lots of services for kids who want to get involved. But there is a whole group of kids who are the 'no doers'. Where does that kid run? California? New York?"

He said, "One big problem the police have is that they have only two tools with youth. One is the station adjustment, and the other is the Audy Home. We're trying to provide an alternative. We want the kids to come to us."

Although most decisions will be made by the professional committee, the program is responsible to the 86 acre Community Center Foundation and run by it. The Foundation's Youth Director Fred Gorss will succeed McIntyre in directing the program.

The Network will now accept direct referrals and intends to make available its service to high school counselors as well as to the police in the area. A troubled boy or girl of any age can call 448-0780 anytime of the day or night if he or she needs help.

The idea of the youth service has been fermenting for about 15 years, and received a big push from Rev. Bill Higginson, youth pastor of Palos Park Presbyterian Church. Last December area police departments met with the church people and started the movement.

The Y.M.C.A. has applied for an Illinois Law Enforcement Grant for this area. This program would be one of the units under the grant. Additional funding is sought from area agencies such as churches and clubs. However, the Foundation has agreed to underwrite any deficit.

News Briefs

Laramie building starts

OAK FOREST — Marvin Laycoax, new school board president of District 142 Board of Education and members of the board met with the architect and contractor to finalize building plans and President Laycoax turned over ground for the new addition. The building program at the Laramie School follows the successful passing of the referendum in February.

The upper level program will be improved by the addition of a vocational educational room, home arts room, a learning center for pupils with special learning disabilities, a guidance office, a workroom for teachers, and larger lunchroom area to provide better lunch service to pupils. It is hoped the building will be completed by early Spring so it can be used this school year.

Superintendent Arthur Lange reports renovations at Ridge have progressed steadily since work began in June. New windows, dropped ceilings, improved lighting facilities, renovated hallways, plus needed plumbing and electrical work in the older section of the building should improve and modernize facilities.

Two new members, Gary Judkins and James Miller, have been recently appointed to the Board of Education to serve out the terms of Jack Hill and David Bugno who recently resigned. Present at the ground breaking were: Martin Stephan, contractor; Douglas Warner, architect; Arthur Lange, Superintendent-District 142; Marvin Laycoax, Board of Education President; Edward Oldfield, Secretary-Board of Education; Theodore Reimer, Ronald Nosal, and Kenneth Burkett, Board of Education members.

Dist. 144 hires leader

OAK FOREST — Jack Feljer will be the new superintendent of the Canterbury Elementary School District 144, serving the Fieldcrest area in Oak Forest.

Feljer, former superintendent in the Highland Park School District 111, was appointed the position after the board held an 18-minute closed executive session at the Monday night meeting at McCleary School, 157th Street and Homan Avenue in Markham.

Hired for a three-year contract, until June 30, 1975, Feljer will receive an annual salary of $26,000, prorated from June 30, 1972.

After hiring Feljer, the board voted to add a bus to the nine-bus junior high route in the Apple Tree and Winston Park areas of the district.

The board also voted to change Monday, Oct. 23 to a day of school instead of a legal holiday. In its place, the board voted to declare Dec. 22 a school holiday.

Society names officers

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort Area Historical Society, recently formed, has elected officers to succeed those temporarily named.

Ralph Eisen Brandt, who had been temporary chairman, was elected president. The other officers are:

Marion Nordsell, vice president; Marie Tewes, secretary and Shirlee Witt, treasurer. Named directors are: Donald Witt, Barbara Clarage and James Knippel.

Persons interested in the history of the Frankfort area are invited to become members of the historical society.

Taxes - an explanation

NEW LENOX — The annual tax levy for the village of New Lenox, $51,924, has been adopted by the village board. This figure is the total levy, including the general or corporate fund, and the garbage collection fund.

The maximum rate for the corporate fund is 33 cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation. The maximum tax rate for garbage collection is 20 cents. These figures are used to multiply the assessed valuation to arrive at the amount of money to be paid in taxes for those two funds.

In the past New Lenox has overlevied. This was done, according to Village Attorney Wayne Johnson, to assure use of the maximum rates.

Marks lung week

The village boards of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox, have authorized proclaiming Sept. 10-17 as Children's Lung Disease Week in the area, to enlist public support in the fight against cystic fibrosis and related lung diseases.

Cystic fibrosis is described as an inherited biochemical disorder that occurs once in approximately every 1,500 births. There will be a collection made to aid the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation in finding a control for the disease.

Blood drawing in Oak Forest taps 119 pints

OAK FOREST — The recent blood drawing at Oak Forest High School brought an additional 119 blood donations for the Joleen Watson Memorial Blood Program, 23 short of the goal set by directors of the program.

An annual quota of blood donations equal to four percent of the population of Oak Forest must be filled to assure continuance of free blood-replacement coverage on a city-wide basis.

Three more blood drawings are scheduled for the current fiscal year, during which time that quota must be filled. An average of approximately 150 donors are needed at each of these three drawings.

At a recent city board meeting, Trustee Dennis O'Connor had occasion to comment on the blood program at the request of a hospitalized resident.

Mrs. Verla Clevenger told O'Connor that the Joleen Watson Program filled her request for blood replacement without regard for the fact that no member of her family had, up to that time, donated blood. She asked that O'Connor commend the program on her behalf.

Many residents cannot give blood because of current or previous illnesses, pregnancy or advanced age. Yet these persons are most likely to need blood. The Joleen Watson Blood Program is able to help such persons because of the generosity of others who can and do donate.

New state restrictions on the use of paid-donor blood highlight the importance of volunteer blood replacement programs such as the Joleen Watson Memorial Blood Replacement Program, named in memory of a 3½ year old leukemia victim.

The need for volunteer donors is greater than ever. The next blood drawing is scheduled for November. For information on the benefits of the program, or to make an appointment to be a blood donor, call 532-2804.

Pain in neck

MOKENA — Condition of a Mokena woman with a gunshot wound in the throat is reported satisfactory by a spokesman for South Suburban Hospital at Hazel Crest.

Mrs. Betty L. Samuel, 44, of 191st Street and 88th Avenue and her husband, Earl, 43, had a quarrel in their home Friday night that terminated with pistol shots. Her husband was arrested and taken to the county jail. According to the police report Mrs. Samuel would not sign a complaint against her husband.

Before moving to their present address the Samuels are said to have resided in Frankfort.

Hold candidate to promises

By Glenn Logan

This being an election year, the Taxpayers Federation of Illinois makes a suggestion.

"Sound out the candidates as to their stand on tax matters..." So far so good. But that is the easy part. Well, perhaps we go too far in surmising that you can easily get a direct answer to such a question, but suppose you do, now comes the hard part of the suggestion:

"...and then hold successful candidates to those commitments after they are in office."

How is one to hold a politician to his commitments? That is more difficult than keeping the boy down on the farm after subdividers shoot the farm out from under him.

There are ways in which the official might be persuaded, but most of them would be frowned upon by our present day courts. It is possible under the conditions we have today that efforts to keep the official on the straight and narrow and fulfill his promises might be interpreted as harassment or coercion and the elector find himself facing some sort of a penalty.

Naturally, the promise most people want kept has to do with keeping taxes down. It is also natural that when taxes go up we lay all the blame on our elected officials. In all fairness we should shoulder some of it. Too many of us forget there are no money trees growing. The only source of money collected by the different governing bodies is from our own pockets. And when we demand more services and handouts, we have to come up with more money.

Apparently a lot of people are falling back on the old premise — "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em." The Taxpayers Federation of Illinois in a recent bulletin says that one employed person out of five now works for government. In 1929 there were 3.2 million employed; in 1970 the number of government employees — at all levels — had risen to 14.4 million. The payroll for all government two years ago was $110-billion — $48-billion federal; $18-billion state, and $45-billion local. Ten years before that, 1960, the total was $45-billion.

Pay for government workers went up 64 per cent from 1961 to 1970, according to the Taxpayers Federation, while earnings of employees in the private sector rose 53 per cent.

The Federation doesn't give any data for 1972 but it is assumed that the number on government payrolls is continuing to increase. A payroll will be willing, even eager, to hold taxes down as long as they aren't the taxes from which he gets his salary. To expect him to do otherwise is to expect too much. The Tax Federation bulletin says that Illinois' "economy is healthy and growing," and cites the increase in state revenue to prove it.

From the figures shown revenues are up on the same tax rate, which in interpreted to mean that more people are working, more people are honest or the state has improved its collection system, or something.

For instance then in the 1972 fiscal year the state income tax brought in over a billion dollars as compared to around 929-million for fiscal 1971, a jump of almost 13 per cent.

The income tax appears to be doing very well the way it is, chugging along at a fixed figure. There are some that are clamoring for a graduated income tax, like the federal government has, the kind that keeps going up, up, up. They must be some kind of nuts, or working on a percentage basis so that every time the income tax goes up their salaries also hike a corresponding amount, plus 20 per cent for the heck of it.

The Illinois sales tax revenue for the 1972 fiscal year was over $812-million, over the almost $570 million the previous year, a rise of 8.317 per cent.

When the polls put on taxes they try to do it as quietly as possible and under another name. One of their ploys is the tax on privately owned utility companies, which the companies promptly pass along to the public. Well this tax collected by the great State of Illinois from the utilities in the '72 period was some $167-million as compared to $151 — million the previous year, a jump of 10.5 per cent.

Two sources of revenue for the state which bring in a goodly sum cigarettes and liquor. Anytime anyone in government wishes to shake down more tax dollars it can be done easily by putting more impost on cigarettes or liquor. There are many, many, many of us who smoke, and the greatest number of smokers are cigarette addicts. There are many, many, many of us who also dally a bit with beverages containing alcohol.

Everyone knows that smoking and drinking are not supposed to be healthful habits. And apparently we have a built complex, as the head shrinkers put it, because no one — except a paid defender — ever rises up to protect and defend cigarettes or liquor when the tax raiser comes along.

In the current fiscal year cigarettes have brought in almost $156-million as compared to $149-million the year previous, while the revenue from the tax on booze and beer was up 8.6 per cent, from $10-million to some $65-million.

Persons who don't drink or smoke say that the cigarette and booze tax don't bother them, as for direct effect, we'll agree, they aren't effected, but indirectly? I wouldn't bet on it.

But getting back to the politicians and the office seekers beware of the phonies who promise you more of this and more that, all free, and at the same time pledges to cut your taxes, give him the old heave ho, come election day. Likewise for the blighter boosting the escalating income tax, or any other kind of tax.

Planners, builders disagree

ORLAND PARK — Two different interpretations of a village ordinance led the Planning Commission and a developer to arrive at a compromise after a lengthy go around of arguments Tuesday night.

Orland Park residents Ted Allen, Douglas Lavery and Ed Moltzen brought to the commission a site plan for an "L-shaped" piece of property at 9763 W. 143rd Street, across from INR Beatty Lumber Co.

The developers were seeking a rezoning to C-Commercial to build 12 two-bedroom apartments above 6600 square feet of professional office space. The bulk of the buildings would be three-story.

Commission member argued that Ordinance 320 allowed no more than 14 units per acre and Allen's group was asking office space in addition. Village Trustee Donald Pekau saw no hope of the plan receiving village board approval.

"I think its flooding a certain piece of land. We want to limit density," he said. Allen replied, "All we're talking about is going by the ordinance."

He contended that a C-Commercial zoning would permit the apartments and the offices on the 7/8th acre which was once dairy farm and milk station. Planning Commission Chairman Bob Miller said that the village board might allow a 15 percent leeway but Allen was still 4 1/2 units over requirements. Miller suggested that the builders revise their plans.

Commission member William Fisher added, "You have an unusual piece of property and in all probability it merits a special use but not as far as you would like."

With a "no" vote from Miller the commission agreed to recommend to the village board that it should consider the plan provided the plan would be redrawn with only 10 apartments units and retaining existing professional office space subject to Planning Commission review as to engineering, drainage, and entrance.

The builders will bring the revised plan to the Board of Appeals Sept. 18.

In another matter the board refused to sign the onion skin copy permitting subdivision construction of Unit Seven in Maycliff Subdivision. The board was determined to stop all further permits until Builder Cliff Mehling satisfied previously required conditions.

In other action the commission: —denied a request by Eugene Cheek to rezone 9976 W. 144th Street for a hair dressing establishment.

—reaffirmed its procedure for hearing requests of builders, according to Section Six of the proposed 701 ordinance pertaining to Planning Commission regulations.

—before adjourning Fisher warned the commission, "I'm going to oppose any areas that are going to change the typography of the land to any degree."

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

As a citizen of Westhaven and a participant in the 162nd block protest on Haven Ave., I feel I must respond to the letter from Robert Scott, published in the Sept. 6th issue of the HERALD. I am surprised the Civic Improvement Assoc., a supposedly non-political group, would allow Mr. Scott to use his position in their organization to state his personal views in one of the most political disputes in Westhaven.

Many of us in the Village have been trying to encourage the Board to speak up and take a collective stand against the Whitaker tyranny. It's been obvious for a long while the building inspector could not act on his own and had personal animosity toward Tekton. This certainly has hindered resolving many disputes. An outside unbiased source is a fair way to solve our plight.

Mr. Scott refers to our Village as Nazi Germany. Yet, when the anti-Whitaker forces win an issue or even present a statement, he is the first one to bombast, challenge and criticize. We commend Trustees Kellogg, Bartholmey, Aldrich and Macki for putting the voice of the PEOPLE in their votes, demonstrating their unquestionable qualifications for public office. It takes courage to rock the boat and at last the PEOPLE are being heard and supported.

To accuse Tekton of operating a political machine in Westhaven is nonsense. We all know there are "Stop Work" orders on Tekton machinery! Mr. Scott tries to be eloquent in his innuendos; however, his satirical remarks actually shine through as appalling! If these same trustees voted to have Tekton leave the Village tomorrow, he would be first in line to shake their hands. This, of course, does not solve anything. Mr. Scott is entitled to his opinions, but he does not speak for the majority.

As an educator, I find it chaotic to believe EVERYONE at Tekton is a liar, cheat or crook as our mayor and former building inspector would have us believe. Yet, because of a few dissenters who will never be satisfied, the feud between Tekton and Whitaker still prevails at our Village meetings rather than important issues such as tax disbursements, police protection, water, ecology, diplomacy, etc. No wonder independent and commercial industries and businesses practice a closed-door policy when considering operating in Westhaven, thereby offering convenience, tax relief and higher property value. They want no part of the Whitaker tyranny; or is it us, the citizens of Westhaven, who are closing the door?

Editor:

The Oak Forest Park District Board of Commissioners, to my mind, did a great injustice to the residents of Oak Forest this past week. They fired administrator Steve Moss.

This letter has two purposes. One is to inform the citizens of Oak Forest that Moss was fired on Friday, Sept. 1, via a telephone call, effective that same day, and with no severance pay. That in itself is grossly unfair, to say the least.

The other purpose is to express my opinion about what happened. Aside from being angry, I do not understand it. I recently attended a Board meeting after reading remarks in a local paper to the effect that the Park District programs were going poorly. I was involved in two Park programs this summer and both went very well as far as I am concerned. I went to the Board meeting on August 10 to tell the Board just that. They fully agreed with me that evening. Three weeks later the administrator of these programs was fired. I feel the people of Oak Forest deserve an explanation.

Personally, I feel Steve Moss was fired because he would not bow to the whim and fancy of every person who walked through the door of the Oak Forest Park District Office. He tried his best to be a good administrator under very difficult circumstances, among them a greatly misrepresented budget and little, usually no, support from the Board.

I also feel that Moss will do an excellent job for a park district somewhere. Unfortunately, it will not be ours.

Editor:

I would like to take this means of expressing my gratitude to the Orland Park Fire Department and the ambulance crew in particular for the assistance given us when my son, Harry, was injured in a traffic accident the evening of Sept. 6 at 135th Street and 82nd Ave. They gave him good care and permitted me to ride with him to the hospital.

I wish I could say that the county police officer who made contact with us at the hospital was helpful and considerate but such was not the case.

He not only was extremely rude, but loud, so loud that a hospital attendance shunted us out of the corridor into an empty room and closed the door so patients would not be disturbed. At one point when he was leveling a tirade against my husband, I touched his arm with my forefinger to attract his attention. I have never considered a finger a hand but apparently this officer did. "Get your hands off me," he shouted at me, "don't you dare touch me, I'm wearing a badge. Can't you see my badge? I'm a police officer."

I can't imagine him having been a policeman very long. He sounded like a spoiled child, struggling with his primer lesson... "Jack has a badge. Do you see Jack's badge? Jack likes his badge. Jack's badge gives him power. Jack's badge makes him brave so he can shout at women."

It would seem to me that before the county sends out a man in the guise of a police officer, with badge and gun, he should be taught the public is deserving of courtesy. If this was taught in the police school this officer attended he flunked the course and should be required to take it again.

In reference to the Fence Post article of Sept. 6, 1972, we take rebuttal to Robert Scott's words in reference to our homes, the builders and the implications of our intelligence for purchasing these homes.

Mr. Scott is speaking for himself and a choice handful of people, who are waiting for repairs at this time. He has not taken a poll of the Tekton homeowners and takes it upon himself to speak for all of us. He has appointed himself big brother to all.

We have been harassed by the literature he has had passed out door to door; again speaking for all. If he cares to make public statements in the future let him put them in perspective and tell the truth.

Sunday picnic

The Sisters of Our Lady enjoy their friends, food, songs and sausages

The rain came and some took shelter.

OAK FOREST — The sisters of Our Lady of Sorrows Convent with the Benedictine Auxiliary participated in the 15th annual fund raising Country Picnic Sunday afternoon on the convent grounds.

This reporter, guided by picnic committee chairwoman pro tem Judy Tybor, toured the convent and met some of the people attending this event. No one afforded this opportunity could resist thanking the sisters for their hospitality, the guests for their friendliness and warmth and the many people who contributed to the building and furnishing of the convent.

The sisters staff parochial schools St. Michael's located at 48th and Damon and St. Catherine's in Oak Lawn.

According to Miss Tybor, the picnic was rained out once, the 13th annual picnic. Mentioning the word rain was forbidden.

The added precaution proved successful on this overcast Sunday when a slight drizzle temporarily dampened spirits.

The picnic was not rained out. Children continued winning prizes in the wishing well, riding on the miniature train, ferris wheel and knocking over kewpie dolls.

Parents visited friends, met new friends, drank beer, sang ethnic songs and purchased chances to win the four bushels of liquor.

And everyone ate chicken dinners, until the chicken ran out. The people remaining in line eagerly accepted the slovic sausages offered in place of chicken.

One exhausted sister was overheard saying, "Next year we'll estimate how much chicken we will need, then order double."

Some were content with a popsicle.

The coffee and chicken lines were long.

Friends were able to talk and eat.

While a boy named Tybor swabbed his face with cotton candy.

Melrose looking west for fireworks location

LOCKPORT — Blown out of Orland Township last March 1, the Melrose Fireworks Display Co. may attempt to resettle in the extreme western part of Lockport Township.

At a hearing of the Will County Zoning Board of Appeals to be held tonight (Wednesday), petitioners Howard and Elsie Weaver are expected to ask for a zoning change from "F" (farming) to "U" (unrestricted). The parcel in question lies north of Airport rd., about 1½ miles west of Weber rd., or about 6 miles west of Route 53. It is believed that the fireworks company wishes to rebuild on the land, if it is rezoned.

The hearing is slated to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Lockport's City Hall.

Melrose Fireworks Display Co. formerly consisted of 18 buildings on a 10-acre site at 163rd st. and 104th ave., near Orland Park. Three persons were killed, 18 injured and all but three small buildings demolished by a series of explosions March 6. No cause for the disaster was ever found.

Following the explosion, nearby communities, including Orland Park, Tinley Park and Oak Forest, passed resolutions asking Cook County not to allow the fireworks factory to be rebuilt in the area.

Melrose Display Fireworks Co. moved to Orland Township in 1955. In 1954, an explosion had levelled the company's Schiller Park plant. Anthony Cartalano is owner of the fireworks company. His wife's father and grandfather were killed in the Schiller Park blast.

The Cook County zoning around the Orland factory was changed to all residential while the plant was still there. Following the blast, Cook County's Department of Building and Zoning decreed that if the plant were to be rebuilt on the same site, the fireworks company would first have to get an M-2 (general manufacturing) classification. It was felt that nearby communities would fight such a move.

Meanwhile, residents near the Airport rd. site are planning to protest the Will Zoning Board. The vicinity of the Weaver property is presently all farms, there are several farmhouses along Airport rd. within a mile of the proposed plant. An underground natural gas pipeline runs along and east of Weber rd.

Mrs. Harriet Fiddymont, who says she lives about 1000 feet from the proposed fireworks plant, told the HERALD she and several of her neighbors are engaging legal counsel to try and stop the rezoning petition.

Developers expecting answer

MOKENA — The group that has plans for a large housing project for the 319-acre tract, bordering Wolf Road and U.S. 30, are expected to get an answer from the Mokena village board at its meeting Sept. 16.

Mayor Will Tuttle said that by that time the board should have had an opportunity to go over reports and recommendations from the planning commission and zoning boards, and the village planning consultant, Robert Mason.

During a special meeting held Sept. 5 in the village hall members of the village council and other local governing bodies met with the developers.

Mayor Tuttle pointed out that the plans so far presented did not show a sewage disposal plant. He added that until a firm plan for sewage disposal is agreed upon, the village will not approve the development.

Tuttle made this statement after Sidney Bloom, one of the developers explained that eventually a treatment plant was to be built on Hickory Creek on the Owens Land Trust property, west of the development in mind. Bloom was somewhat vague as to plans for sewer treatment but indicated that if necessary some temporary means could be worked out until the plant is built on the Owens property.

Plans for the treatment plant were sent to Springfield and approved by the Environmental Protective Administration a year ago, it was said, but nothing has ever been done on building the plant.

The developers are ready to give the grade school district 10 acres for a school site it was reported. This was equivalent to getting $100,000, Bloom said.

Supt. James Ennis said he had found the developers cooperative but said he and the school board have not seen a cost analysis report covering the subdivision. A good site, properly located could serve the Owens Trust and the new development, Ennis said.

He added that it was estimated the developments would produce approximately 1,500 grade school children.

About 600, from kindergarten through fourth or fifth grade, would attend school near their homes while the remainder would be bussed to the junior high facilities in Mokena.

When Mrs. Robert Schofield, president of the library board, asked for a two and a half acre site for a branch library to serve the proposed new section of the village, Bloom sat silent for an interval and then pointed out that two and a half acres involved a lot of money.

It was apparent that if the library wanted a site in the new section the board would have to buy it.

Figures by the developers' planner showing the total number of living units will be 1,776 and, when completed over a seven or eight year span, would house approximately 5,900 persons.

Broken down this population figure estimates 3,476 adults; 536 preschoolers; 1,191 children in grade school and 314 in high school.

A planner estimated that the assessed valuation of the development completed would be approximately $44-million.

Supt. Joe Kruzich, of Lincoln-Way High School, said that when the assessed valuation of the district rose to more than $55,000 per student Lincoln-Way would receive less state aid. Instead of on an attendance basis the aid would be on a flat rate of so much a month.

Fire Chief Fred Rauch and Assistant Chief Delbert Yunker said some arrangement would have to be worked out with the Frankfort fire district if the Mokena fire protection district takes over because a portion of the proposed development lies in the Frankfort fire district.

Chief Rauch pointed out that an entry road should be included in the plans that would give firemen easy access to the entire area, including the Owens Trust.

Bloom indicated the developers would go along with this suggestion and would not be averse to helping the district acquire another piece of apparatus.

Synthetic fabrics are washable, but not indestructible. Be gentle, with an electric dryer.

Today's miracle fabrics can take a lot. But remember, they're still what the name says. Fabrics.

That's when the gentleness of an electric dryer pays off. It's very, very gentle because it dries with a very gentle kind of heat. Radiant heat. That means it dries things the same nice way the sun does.

Many models even have an electronic sensor inside the dryer door to make sure things never over-dry. That's really important when it comes to permanent press.

An electric dryer is as gentle as a dryer can be on today's miracle fabrics. Matter of fact, it's gentle on non-miracle fabrics, too.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY JIM HIRSCH

A student in one of the large universities laments the loss of personal recognition. The student is given a number, known by a number, recognized by a number; seldom by name or as a person. In the complexities of modern civilization, all of us live in an age of numbers. Birth, scholastic, employment, marriage, death and social security records are kept by numbers. The glamor of numbers even includes a zip code for mail you receive or send. Our living in an age of numbers and computers is part of the price we pay for the questioned luxury of growth.

Gone are the days when, for example, someone mailed a letter to Mark Twain, addressed — "The Lord knows where" — and got a reply, "He does." And this brings up an important realization. God, the creator of heaven and earth, needs no numbers to identify His children of the past and present. The prophets and psalmists of yesteryear, the ministers, priests, rabbis, leaders and laymen of today, as well as you and your family are known to Him as persons. He knows who you are, where you are and what you are doing. Much joy in living is lost when He is denied accessibility and approachability in personal daily needs.

Star light, starlet

By ROBIN BAILEY

PALOS PARK—What is 18 years old, paints, sings, acts and is really hip? Guessing game is over; the answer is Mary Bourke. No, she is not another Mary Martin, Judy Collins, Renoir, or Rodin. Mary Bourke is Mary Bourke.

Mary is quite talented and intelligent. She has been an actress, singer, and artist, since her sophomore year of high school, and owes her training to her three Drama directors.

As I interviewed her, Mary sat on a comfortable couch surrounded by paintings, and sculptures. Her unique eyebrows, much like Ali McGraw's rose when I asked her about one of her paintings on the wall behind me.

"I got the idea from the 'National Lampoon' magazine. The girl is in another world."

The picture was four by four, of a greaser guy in a black leather jacket trying to explain something to his "chick" as the long-faced, blonde girl looked on. The painting was a series of greys, blacks, yellows, and reds done in acrylics. The name "Leroy's Chick" was appropriate.

Mary has appeared in the shows "Oliver," "Harvey," "Little Mary Sunshine," and "Dark of the Moon," at Carl Sandburg High School. She intends to start at St. Xavier's College in the fall. Mary noted that her major would be Art for the time being.

Mary shifted her position on the couch to sit Indian-style, and looked worried. "Don't forget to mention my coaches who really helped me. There's Mrs. Marion Matthews, Brian Vandenberg, and Mr. Pettica. I can't remember Pettica's first name." She smiled wide. "And, of course, my mother backed me up the whole time I was acting. That sounds kind of corny, doesn't it?" I reassured her that it wasn't.

During our chat, Mary's brothers, all five of them, came in periodically joking with her. "Hey, Mar—can I have your autograph, now that you're a celebrity?" they squealed.

The show that Mary appeared in on Sept. 5 was a "great theatrical experience" for her. The show was variety about a wedding which took place during the American Revolution. Mary was with the ten boys and ten girls who sang.

"All the lead parts were given to the college kids. They wanted older looking people. Since I look about twelve, they wouldn't use me." She shrugged her shoulders and smoothed her long blond hair.

Mary's long range plans at the present are to "get a degree in art and then try to support myself that way." I kept thinking that maybe I was sitting with a future singing star, or, famous painter. Maybe, someday, Mary Bourke.

Complex laws, tragic

by MARILYN HEISER

It took the unbelievably tragic story of Johnny Lindquist, six-years-old, lying in a hospital bed unconscious and near death, to arouse front page concern over the plight of foster children.

Foster children are wards of the court and the state sets the standards by which the agencies function.

But the rights of foster children and foster parents are, at best, poorly defined.

As Alice James of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society explained, the rights of the natural parents supercede those of the child and his foster parents.

"The courts have tended to send children back to their natural parents when there is a good deal of evidence that they shouldn't," Miss James said.

Even if a parent has neglected his child or is in a mental institution, the state places his rights to the child above those of the foster parent.

MISS JAMES SAID her agency doesn't depend on the courts. "We try to work with the natural parents to make them see their child is better off in a foster home."

If foster parents want to adopt their fosterchild, the law gets even more complex. The agency must make every reasonable effort to locate the natural parents and notify them that a family wants to adopt their child. If unsuccessful after six months of trying to find parents who have deserted their child, the child can be released for adoption.

A recent Supreme Court interpretation gives fathers, especially those of babies whose parents aren't married, additional rights. If the father can be located, it takes additional evidence to show he has deserted.

BOTH THE MOTHER and father must sign releases giving up their rights to their child. The interpretation said a father later can change his mind about an adoption unless he signs a release.

Miss James said, "Because of this new father ruling, it takes longer now to adopt babies." Many babies who previously could be adopted at two or three weeks old, now have to be placed in pre-adoptive homes, sometimes for four or five months, until the father is located.

"This is why," she said, "we need desperately more homes for pre-adoptive babies."

Placing foster children

by MARILYN HEISER

Almost every would-be foster parent who calls up Catholic Charities, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society or the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services and requests a child has a certain picture in his mind:

A nice, young, healthy child, between the ages of 2 and 5, beyond the diaper stage but young enough to fill up an empty house when the older children are away at school.

Unfortunately, there aren't enough of these children to go around. The agencies desperately need homes for older, white children, teenagers, white sibling groups and handicapped children.

Why white? Mrs. Susan Szigeti of Child and Family Services (CFS) said she has three to five black families waiting for each black child, but many white children go homeless.

All of the agencies try to place children in homes where the parents will be the same race as the child. "Kids have a right to know their ethnic and cultural background," said Mrs. Szigeti.

The ICHAS is starting a new program to place groups of pre-adolescent children, ages 10 through 13, in foster homes. "These children aren't necessarily related. They need a stable peer group and we'd like to place them with families with space and energy to take in several pre-teens," Mrs. Rutan said.

There are basically three different kinds of foster care and each kind requires a different sort of home.

Emergency Protection Service (EPS). This is foster care for children who are found abandoned or abused and need immediate homes. Care lasts for only several weeks, and families have to be willing to accept a child any time, day or night.

THERE IS A large shortage of such homes, particularly in the northwest suburbs. The state agency said there are presently 101 EPS homes in all of Cook County. The state would like 150 more homes; hopefully 50 of these would be in the northwest suburbs.

"We like to place a child in the community he previously lived in so he'll be familiar with the schools and neighborhood. And economics have nothing to do with abused or abandoned children. There are fires and other disasters everywhere. Sometimes the child has no place to go," Mrs. Szigeti said.

To report a child in need of an EPS home because he is abused or abandoned, call 24 hours a day, 341-8492.

Pre-adoptive or short-term foster care. Small babies waiting for adoption need foster homes possibly only for a month or two. Single women, as well as married ones, who like to care for babies are needed.

Long-term care. Children ranging from 2 through adolescent years who are wards of the state and usually not eligible for adoption need homes. They will remain with a family from anywhere from two years up until they are 18 and no longer wards of the state.

WHILE NATURAL parents are allowed to visit these children on a regular (usually monthly) basis, these children remain with the foster family until the natural parents are able to properly care for them.

Why is there a shortage of foster homes today? The agencies cite such things as inflation, which makes people less eager to take on the expense of an extra room. Inflation also means that more mothers are working today and unable to stay home and care for a foster child.

Families are "also less willing to be responsible for bringing up kids these days of drugs and dropouts," Alice James of ICHAS said.

For information about foster care, call the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services at 341-8580, the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society at 944-3313 or Catholic Charities at CE6-5172.

Astrological engagements

SUSAN KAY KILLION

NEW LENOX — Mr. and Mrs. Neil Killion, New Lenox, announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan SAGITTA SAYS, if your engagement extends through earthy Virgo, August 24 to September 23, you'll feel Mercurial infiltrations and a note of practicality in your plans. Sounds conflicting, but Virgo's influences do tend to bring splendid activity of mind and body at the same time it brings frugality and cautiousness.

If you feel inclined to view your coming wedding somewhat seriously and even more somberly than before, you can put it down to the sign of the Virgin. Use it for what it's worth while making your momentous plans. But remember that analysis of situations must give way to sheer joy from time to time.

Kay, Council Bluffs, Ia., to Alan Craig Stein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Stein, Elk Horn, Ia.

Susan is a 1969 graduate of Lincoln-Way High School and a 1972 graduate of Jennie Edmundson School of Nursing, Council Bluffs, Ia. She is employed by Jeannie Edmundson Hospital.

Alan is a 1964 graduate of Elk Horn High School and a 1968 graduate of Iowa State University with a degree in Animal Science.

No wedding date has been set.

TINLEY PARK — Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Kelley, 17110 Oriole Ave. announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela, to William C. Wolske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Wolske, 14514 West Ave., Orland Park.

Pamela and William are now attending Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. They are both graduates of Carl Sandburg High School.

No date has been set for the wedding.

OAK FOREST — Peter Seger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Seger, 6141 W. Rob Roy Drive, recently enrolled at Park College of Saint Louis University in Cahokia, Ill., for the 1972-73 academic year.

Karla to appear in play

MOKENA — Karla Jayne DeVito, 11034 First St., has been signed by producers Lansbury-Duncan and Beruh, New York, to an Actor's Equity Association "run of the play" contract. Karla will sing a song entitled "All Good Gifts," in the Chicago production of "Godspell," opening Sept. 19 at the Studebaker Theatre.

Karla, an honor student at Loyola University, plans to continue her education on a part time basis until the termination of the play.

"Godspell" is a representation adapted from the Gospel according to Matthew.

This drama has been described as a modern passion play, a new way of representing joy to the world, a comedy of grace and a song of love. It has been universally praised by both clergy and laity for its loving spirit, its infectious joy and its tremendous appeal to both youth and the young at heart.

On an empty stage, wooden sawhorses become the gates of heaven. The simple props, the joyful music, the fanciful theater games illuminate the vitality and warmth behind the remote mask of traditional divinity.

Flagball season opens

OAK FOREST — Kickoff specialist Mike Janicki paced his Medina Builders Packers to a 28-0 victory Sunday over Chet & Lucy's Bears at Fieldcrest Park in a Oak Forest Athletic Association flag football game.

Jeff Webber racked up 22 points in the Fieldcrest 49ers 42-0 rout of the Fieldcrest Raiders in the second game Sunday.

Janicki opened the scoring in the first period and then scored again before halftime following Kevin Joyce's interception. Chris Young collected both extra points.

The second half action included Janicki's third touchdown and another by Young. He also had a two-point conversion. George Uthe got the Packers' second interception.

Webber paced the 49ers through the first half action in the second game with two touchdowns and two-point conversions. The half ended with Webber completing the conversion after Dave Bisean scored easily.

Second half scoring was divided among Dale Ream (two touchdowns), Webber (two conversions) and Doug Reiff (touchback).

There will be no games this weekend due to the "I Am An American" day festivities.

OAK FOREST — Flag Football started Sunday, Sept. 10, as eight teams in the Gingerwood-Fieldcrest Athletic Association met at Gingerwood and Fieldcrest Parks.

The eight teams, divided into two divisions, have 135 boys participating this season. The two divisions are composed of four lightweight teams, boys 8-10 years-old, and four heavyweight teams, 11-13 year old boys.

In flag football, each boy wears two colored adhesive ribbons attached to a belt around his waist. A tackle is made when an opponent rips off one of the double adhesive ribbons from the boy's waist.

The teams were started last year by the Gingerwood Athletic Association. When the Oak Forest Park District refused to buy helmets for the boys,

"We're leery of the kids getting hurt," said Don Burns, president of the Gingerwood Homeowners Association. "When we asked the Park Board for helmets last year, we were told the boys didn't need them."

"We worked with the Park Board this winter to get equipment," Burns said. "But later this year we were told nothing could be worked out. We hope to work with the Park Board next year, though, and make this a district wide program."

The boys in the program this year are from the Oak Forest district. The majority of the boys, however, come from Gingerwood and Fieldcrest.

The teams are sponsored by different businesses in Oak Forest. Each sponsor pays $100 for the team. The money buys jerseys for the boys, and skirts and pom-poms for the girl cheerleaders. Each boy is also required to pay an $8 registration fee which pays for his helmet and gear.

"Each boy plays at least one quarter," said Burns. "There are no bench warmers unless there is a discipline problem. Then the coaches of each team decide whether the boy should play. So far we have had no problems," he added.

In Flag Football there are no time outs. The clock keeps running except for the two minute warning in each quarter.

The Gingerwood and Fieldcrest Athletic Associations hold a banquet at the end of the year and award trophies to the winning teams.

Army program

SOUTHWEST — The Department of the Army has announced that the 25th Infantry Division, based in Hawaii, is now part of the "Special Unit of Choice" enlistment option.

Sgt. Don Belton, local Army recruiter, said that under this option, the enlistee can specify the 25th Infantry Division and then choose a Military Occupational Specialty (MOS) from those available in the unit before he enlists.

The unit is based at Schofield Barracks which is near Honolulu and the beaches at Waikiki.

The 25th Infantry Division, known as "Tropic Lightning" is rapidly instituting changes as part of the Modern Volunteer Army program. These changes include partitioning of barracks, decentralized inspections, elimination of sign in-sign out requirements, and a short order line in the dining halls.

Sandburg frosh have hopes

ORLAND PARK — The freshman football team of Carl Sandburg High School is looking for a fine season under Coach Gene Kowert. Approximately 70 boys came out for the team and now there are 58. Usually there are about 120 boys out for freshman football but this year not near as many came out.

The freshmen will play seven games this year with the first game Saturday in a pre-season contest against Rich South. Coach Gene Kowert said he thinks the A team will do well this year, but the B team might have it's problems.

The reason for two teams is because during the freshman year the coaches like to take a look at each player and it also gives everyone a chance to play. Freshman football is basically a year of learning and discipline.

Sandburg CC opens season with big loss

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg cross country season started on a sour note last week with both the varsity and frosh-soph teams losing.

The varsity runners led by Tom Page and Brian Dotson were thumped by Richards 47-15. Coach John Wilson said Richards was tough but thought the boys could have done better.

The frosh - soph team dropped its contest 31-28 to the Richard Bulldogs in a much tighter race.

Later in the week the frosh-soph harriers participated in the Hinsdale

South Invitational in which 18 teams were involved. The Eagles finished a respectable eighth with Tim Close of the Eagles finishing first in a field of 126 runners. Close with that remarkable finish will run on the varsity this year as only a sophomore.

The Eagles' next two meets will be against Rich Central and Lockport Central. The Lockport meet will be held at Turtle Head Lake Forest Preserve on Harlem Avenue in Palos Heights this Friday, Sept. 15, starting at 4 p.m.

L-Way CC loses, mars record

NEW LENOX — The running Knights of Lincoln-Way High School suffered a close defeat Sept. 5 as Rich Central High School handed the cross country team its first dual meet defeat in 58 starts, 27-29.

The Lincoln-Way runners made a quick comeback, however, and took four of the first five places Sept. 7 in non-conference action against Bloom Township High School.

Knight coach Al Logsdon explained it was difficult to lose such a close meet after a long string of victories. He added, however, that the loss was probably good training for the many youngsters on this year's squad.

In the Sept. 7 action, Lincoln-Way junior David Walters led all the finishers and took the three-mile course in 16:18.

Teammates Scott Reynolds, Don Erickson and Bill Steen followed at 17:14, 17:15 and 17:46 respectively. Bloom's Bill Wright made the course in 17:55.

The Lincoln-Way team meets Sept. 16 for the 27-team Proviso West Invitational Tournament at Hillside.

In frosh-soph running action, the Lincoln-Way team has a 2-0 record for the season to date. The topped Bloom 25-37.

Flag opener, Chiefs top Vikings

OAK FOREST — In the first flag football game of the season in the Oak Forest Athletic Association at Gingerwood Park Sunday the Spicer Realty Chiefs ran over the Oak Forest Trustees Vikings 32-12.

The Maurer Colts edged the Royal Chrysler Plymouth Rams 8-6 in the second contest.

The Chiefs were the first to score in the opener when Jeff Trayers ran an end sweep for a 20-yard TD in the first period. In the second quarter the Vikings evened the score when Charles Lilly intercepted a Chief pass and ran 12 yards for the score.

The Chiefs regained the lead as Ken Kubacki caught a 20-yard pass in the end zone. However, Viking Mark Van Dommelon took the kickoff all the way for a score. On the last play of the second quarter Chief Kubacki gathered in a 20-yard pass and ran another 45 yards to go into half time with an 18-12 advantage.

There was no scoring in the third quarter but with one minute gone in the final period Kubacki grabbed a pass and scooted 43 yards for the tally. The Chiefs' Don Roberts widened the lead, taking a pass and going 15 yards for the final TD. The extra points were good, giving the Chiefs the 32-12 victory.

In the second game between the Rams and Colts defense was the story and it was not until the second period when Royal Ram Grover Goetz grabbed a short pass and ran 45 yards for the score.

This score held until the final period when Colt Kurt Mayer made a 35-yard end run to tie the score and Colt Rodney Humpal converted the extra points to give the Colts the lead.

Sandburg girls open tennis season

ORLAND PARK — "We plan on winning!" Sound like a coach — it is — Coach Marcia Murphy of Carl Sandburg's Girl's Tennis team. The squad played its first meet with Argo Tuesday.

Mrs. Murphy advises that they have a schedule calling for six meets with a possibility of seven, which she says "is a nice number. And we'll also attempt to get into the state finals", she said,

"because there are no districts as yet. We are now investigating the qualifications needed so that we can compete".

Her positive statement on winning is based on the return for the second year of such stalwarts as Carol Smeja, Shirley Pleyys, Barbara Baggott and Tia Karamelas. "These girls played consistently last year, and I expect to lean heavily on them this year".

The girls practice every day after school from 2:45 to 6 p.m., and most girls will play one hour, making room for students on both the first and second shifts.

The six meets already scheduled for the girls tennis team are against Reavis, Hillcrest, Oak Lawn, Rich East and Thornwood. These will be the same teams that Sandburg will officially be competing against when the conference is set up in 1973-74.

The girls teams are under the supervision of Joe Devine, athletic director, who takes care of scheduling, budgeting, etc.

Other girls' teams to be formed this year are basketball also under Coach Murphy, swimming and volleyball by Coach Barbara Geyer; gymnastics, Joan VandeVelde; and softball by Charlene Trakas.

Square residents seek security

FRANKFORT SQUARE — A special meeting of the Frankfort Square Homeowner's Association was called Sunday, Sept. 10, to determine what steps will be taken to provide additional safety and security for residents of this area. Association President David Wilson expressed some concern after reports were given on three incidents of attempted breaking-and-entry here in less than a week. Neither Wilson nor any of the homeowners present showed any signs of panic; rather, they were only interested in learning precautions that will help to prevent future problems in this presently unincorporated region.

Sergeant Perry Friddle of the Will County Sheriff's Police spoke to the group and answered individual questions. Sgt. Friddle acknowledged that the installation of supplementary locks on doors and windows was sensible, however, he also outlined procedures that were both practical and immediately available. Among them were first, to keep the area well-lit at night, and second, to be aware of any suspicious persons, activities (noises) or vehicles. According to Sergeant Friddle, residents should keep both front and back door lights burning at night to provide something of a deterrent to would-be prowlers.

Also, he suggested that when a house is to be left vacant for any length of time, as during a vacation, for example, the owners should leave lights on and the shades up or curtains open to allow neighbors to keep watch for doubtful activity within the home. He emphasized the need for residents to be alert to suspicious persons.

Note, he said, the general appearance, such as the color of hair, height, approximate weight and type of clothing worn. Be observant of automobiles, particularly the color, make and license number. This, Sgt. Friddle explained, is a tremendous help in the apprehension of criminals.

Also, increased patrolling of Frankfort Square by squad cars is scheduled by the Will County Sheriff's Police.

Meanwhile, a Committee for Community Security and Safety has been appointed to investigate other methods for increased security. Members are William Reed, James O'Boyle, Gary Kaurala, James Novack and David Wilson. This committee will report its findings at the next general meeting of the Association, which has not been scheduled at this time.

Westhaven neighbors respond

WESTHAVEN — In a community effort to help flood victims after the Aug. 25 storm in Westhaven on 162nd Street and Highview Avenue, village organizations and outside persons combined to provide food and assistance.

The Westhaven Women's Club asked Mr. Ed's IGA Foodliner store in Orland Park for donations. Edward Schuetz, owner told the HERALD Wednesday that members of the Women's Club came to the store for bread, baby food, lunchmeat, cereal and milk donations, and returned twice.

Rimmke said that Tekton is willing to donate paint to the homeowners to repair their homes if needed.

Shooting victim bedridden with bullet in leg

FRANKFORT — Why should a person, who apparently was chilled, choose to sleep on the ground in the open, after allegedly invading a snug wooden building for plywood and cardboard with which to make a lean-to, and then forsaking the lean-to for the open ground?

That is a question for which Frankfort police are seeking an answer.

They have ample time to make inquiries because the person the police reports is involved in Silver Cross Hospital — where he is apt to be for the next two months — recovering from a bullet wound in the left knee.

The subject, who gave his name and age as Larry Spiegel, 31, of 2735 Ninth St., Rock Island, was shot by Police Officer Wayne Mangun when resisting arrest and the officer believed him to be attempting to grab his pistol.

According to Mangun's report this is the way it went.

The officer making his rounds entered the driveway leading to the Alsip Nursery on U.S. 45 about half a mile north of U.S. 30. On the south side of the drive, near the entrance is a building that houses the Fireplace Shop. Across the drive to the north is another building also used by the purveyors of fireplace equipment. The lean-to was built alongside this structure.

As he turned in the drive Officer Mangun noticed a campfire burning just west of the south shop and lying alongside the fire was a man asleep, with a piece of firewood for a pillow. The man was lying on his stomach, with his hands beneath him. Mangun radioed his find to the communication center at New Lenox and then approached the sleeper. He roused him and told Spiegel he was under arrest and to bring his hands out into the open — slowly.

When Mangun came back, he reported, Spiegel threw a rock at him and started to get up. Mangun told him to lie still. The man picked up a piece of firewood, Mangun said.

"What are you going to do if I don't, you——", the report quotes Spiegel. The officer replied he would shoot him in the leg. Spiegel then got up, casting the piece of wood away, and started to leave.

Mangun said he hit the man on the left shoulder with two-pound steel cased flashlight but it never fazed him. Spiegel is then said to have countered with a heavy blow with his fist that caught Mangun in the left side of the neck and knocked him off balance.

"As I fell back," Mangun said, "this man started for me. He appeared to be grabbing for my gun. I brought the pistol down below his waistline and pulled the trigger. He grabbed his knee and fell down."

Mangun called for the Frankfort Community Chapel ambulance and a county officer, Anthony Lucetti, who came up at that time put a bandage on the wound. At the hospital surgeons took over and Spiegel is now under traction.

He is charged with breaking and entering, resisting arrest and striking a police officer. He is also accused of damaging property, including gas grills and ornamental lights for driveways.

Frankfort police took Spiegel's fingerprints Monday and sent them in to the state and federal crime labs for a check.

Police plan for safety safety, Chief Fitch said. The material cost the Lions approximately $440.

The bicycle safety project is separate from the general safety course and will come to a close with the youngsters demonstrating, through riding tests, whether they have mastered the rules of the road for cyclists.

Chief Fitch pointed out that many of the youngsters riding bicycles are not only violators of traffic regulations but of safety.

Chief Fitch plans to enforce the bicycle code through the youngsters themselves. They will select their own judges. The juries will be drawn, as are the judges, from their own ranks.

The youngsters will decide whether a violator shall lose his riding privileges for a specified period, and how long that period shall be. It could be, by the rules under consideration, that a bicycle could be impounded for 60 days for repeated violations by the rider.

In the general safety program there will even be a section dealing with the dangers of narcotics. This will be for pupils in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, Fitch said.

Three films will be shown during the discussion of drugs. The programs are expected to begin early in October, Chief Fitch said.

Iron removal filter purchase approved

NEW LENOX — Water was a major topic at the New Lenox Village Board meeting last Wednesday night. It was a basis for a number of problems. Drinking water, surface water and sewer water all came in for discussion.

One of the water problems that has confronted the village, excess rust, is on the way to being solved. The village board has let a contract for installation of an iron removal filter.

Village engineers, Robert E. Hamilton and Associates Hamilton and John Djerf were present at the meeting. They were asked to bring in recommendations to correct the drainage problems, especially on streets feeding into Cedar Road north of the Rock Island Lines crossing.

There were several persons on hand from that area asking that something be done to remedy conditions. It was believed that smoke tests will show if one of the big problems comes from roof water going into the sanitary sewer.

Djerf was to report to the board at its meeting next Wednesday on the cost of tests made by a construction firm familiar with sewer work.

The village board intends to take corrective measures as quickly as possible. What the board wants to do is arrive at a permanent solution, the result of a long range plan, but in the meantime it hopes to do something to benefit complaining homeowners.

There were four bids received for installing an iron removal filter. Included in the job would be construction of a building to house it, piping and electrical work. There were several alternatives as to housing for the filter, brick and block, block or all metal.

Gaskill & Walton, of Crete, was low bidder with $83,070. The structure housing the filter is to be metal with a concrete cover.

The second bid, on these terms, was $108,000 by Blaine Saxton, Mokena; the third was $110,400 by Princinal Construction, and the fourth and highest bid was $114,400, by Wil-Fred's.

This was the fourth time bids were taken by the village on this job. On the previous occasions, when they all ran well over $100,000, the board rejected them as being too high. The board is well satisfied with the Gaskill & Walton bid, which is quite close to the engineer's estimate. The price is about $30,000 less than the last bid.

The board also awarded a contract to Nick & John for the laying of approximately 1,700 feet of water main on Pine Street. The price is $19,302; Four other bids were submitted, $21,924 by C.W. Roberson; $25,800 by J. Marich & Sons; $27,245 by Blaine Saxton, and $28,906 by John & Ron.

Three bids also were considered on a truck for village use. Phillips Chevrolet, Frankfort, low bidder was given the contract. The price given was $5,333. Rendel's Inc., Joliet, submitted next lowest price, $5,438 and the third bid, $5,508 was that of Cooper-Show Ford, Frankfort.

There was some discussion concerning a tap-on for John Martensen, owner of the first building on U.S. 30 west of the Norfolk & Western railroad tracks.

The second building — immediately west of Mortensen's — is owned by Fred Feil. The properties were formerly owned by Moss Equipment Co.

Mortensen has been seeking connection with the village water mains for several weeks. There is an easement somewhere between the two properties, it was brought out at the board meeting, the exact whereabouts has not been established.

A village crew, with a backhoe recently was dipping into what the members believed to be the easement in search of the water main or stub. Trustee Francis Miller, head of the water and sewer committee, told his colleagues that Feil ordered the crew to leave what he declared to be his premises, and the village workers did.

Mortensen was advised to make a connection with the main that feeds a hydrant across the street. Mortensen said that the $10 deposit for a property line connection with the water had been paid and the village was obliged to give him one. Mortensen said he would make the hook-up across the street if the village paid half of the cost. Miller said the village couldn't do this, that other persons had had to make similar connections and had paid the costs. Mortensen said he would consult his attorney about the question of putting in a well.

Village Attorney Wayne Johnson was asked to check with other communities having ordinances covering swimming pools on the question of what size pools require fences. Police Chief Joseph Wajchert said the present ordinance is somewhat vague on this and other points.

Consultant engineer vindicates industry

FRANKFORT — From time to time some residents of Frankfort have complained of a disagreeable odor that apparently came from the south or southwest and since Brummer Seal Division, of Borg-Warner, is in the southwest section of the village a number of fingers were pointed at that industry.

George Gordon, works manager, accompanied by other officials of the firm and a representative of consulting engineers group, came to the village board meeting Monday night to say the odors did not come from there.

"We have had complaints from the village," Gordon said, "and someone, more than one I believe, made complaints to the state attorney general's office. The attorney general sent investigators to the plant and they checked everything but could find nothing wrong."

"Our company has always been conscientious in doing its part to preserve the environment and we always endeavor to be good neighbors in any community where we are located, so we called in an independent firm of consultant engineers to make a thorough inspection of our plant and determine if we were in anyway responsible for the odors on which the complaints were based."

"They found everything below minimum standards as far as any odors are concerned. We do not burn anything. We discharge a small amount of phenol resin but they found that odor of creosote, while at a minimum, was stronger than the phenol. The creosote odor was traced to power poles and railroad ties that had been treated with it."

"It cost us $700 to have this inspection made but were glad to do it to establish that the odors complained of did not come from our plant," Gordon said.

He said that on one occasion several of their maintenance men noticed an unpleasant odor in the early morning. Some of them carried their search to the roof of the plant and the odor was being brought on by a breeze from the south and southwest.

Trustee Wilbert Klier spoke up to say that before coming to the meeting he and his wife had to close all the windows in their home and turn on the air conditioner because of a strong sulphur smell.

Mayor Glenn Warning expressed the boards appreciation of the cooperation of Brummer Seal in attempting to locate the source of the complaint. With the Brummer plant eliminated the source is still a mystery.

Infant life saved

FRANKFORT — The village Board of Trustees has directed a written order of commendation for Police Officer James Maloney for his efforts that saved the life of an infant. A copy of the commendation will go into the police records.

The incident occurred Aug. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Michel, 600 Lincoln Lane. The infant daughter of the Michels, Christie, was having difficulty breathing and would have died but for the efforts of Maloney, who revived her.

The village board also had praise for the part played by the police and firemen that contributed to the success of the annual fall festival held early this month.

MOKENA — A program promoting safety is being planned by the Mokena Police Department for the children of the community, from kindergarten through the eighth grade.

One phase will deal with general safety and the other will be devoted to bicycle safety. Police Chief Harol Fitch and Sgt. John Coffee will be in charge. Both will give several talks in the schools and show films as a further lesson.

The Mokena Lions Club is furnishing the kit that will be used in teaching

1972 Providence High School Celtics

Celtics select high goals

NEW LENOX — "When the team and I got together at a meeting after the season last year, the boys that were coming back this season set as their goal, to be the team to give Providence its first football trophy."

That was Providence football coach Mat Sneffner's comment when asked about a particular goals this year's grid Celtics had set for themselves.

Last year was the first season in the Private League for the Celts who finished with a 3-4 record, and never lost a game by more than one touchdown.

This season with a nucleus of 14 let-termen and the biggest team in the school's history (averaging around 190 pounds) the Celts might just be good enough to win that first grid trophy.

Sneffner can go into battle with five offensive regulars and a strong defensive unit lead by seven experienced defenders.

A returning regular at end is Joe Daley. Junior Tom Carey, and veteran Dan Tonelli, who works mostly on defense also are available for end chores.

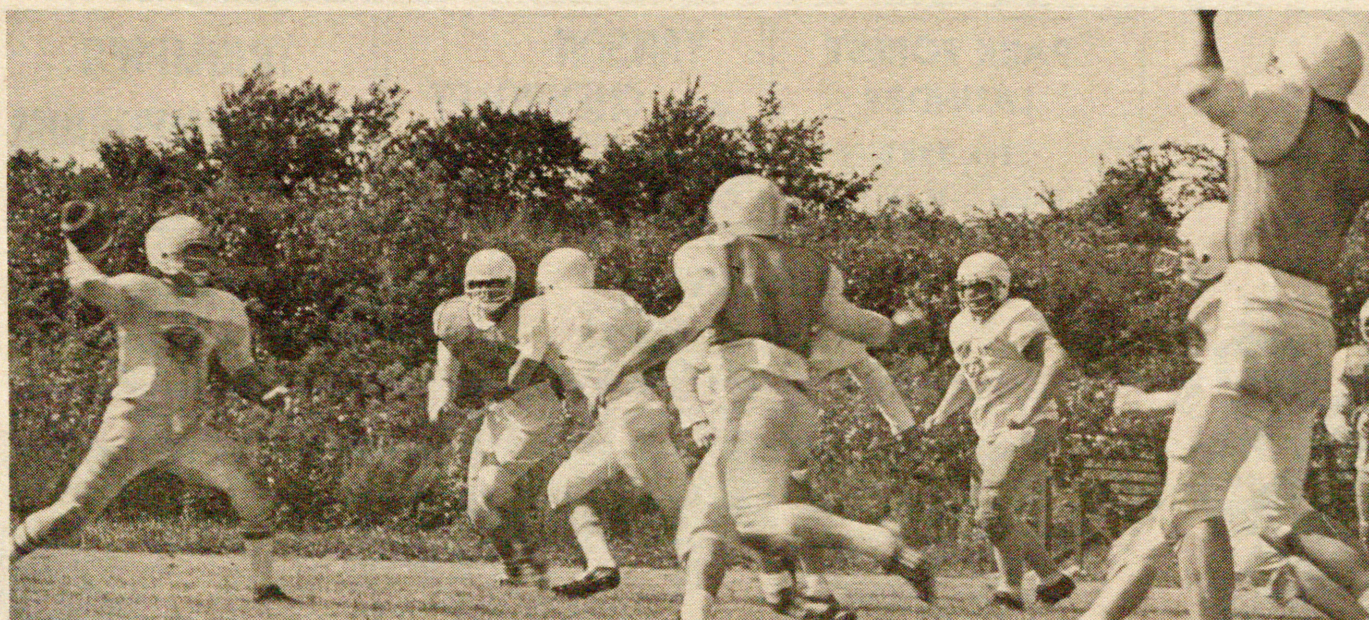

Regular Joe Wilhelmi, who plays both ways, heads the tackle corps with juniors Jim Quigley and Steve Matecjak as other candidates. The Celts can start two regulars at guard with Larry Felletti and Mark Demico back.

Bill Shubert who lettered as a tackle last year is slated for center.

Pete Mandella returns at quarterback with junior Dan Kinsella in reserve. John Buchanan one of the area's best linebackers will play fullback.

Other backs will probably be Ed Oslta, a junior who was slated for varsity duty as a sophomore last year until he broke a collar bone, and Mickey Ruettinger, who played primarily on defense last season.

Rich East High School 1972 Rockets

Coach Hundley to make debut at Rich East

PARK FOREST — With only 13 seniors Coach Mike Hundley will lack an experienced squad in his debut as Rich East football coach.

The Rockets open their season in a non-conference game Sept. 16, at Crete.

Just how far the Rockets soar this season rests with how quickly some of less experienced seniors and players up from the sophomore squad learn their varsity duties.

Hundley who was assistant line coach with the Rockets last year, so is not unfamiliar with the team.

Much of the Rockets success in the Southwest Suburban Conference race depends on the development of senior

Derda did not play varsity last year, and Wolfe still is learning the position. Ron Overcast, who saw limited action on offense last year will try the tailback spot. Other backfield men are Mike Mandarino, Gary Giannini, Ray Carlson and Reggie Beale.

Junior Paul MacCarren will head the line corps along with Paul Paxton. John Connors who missed all of last season because of illness is back ready for action.

Mike Peterik and Dick Ressler will work at center with Doug Major at one guard slot, and Mike Furr and Al Steffeter at end.

Quarterback Ron Wolfe, Split End Todd Dickerson, Quarterback Greg Derda

1972 Rich Central High School Olympians

New coach, 12 lettermen head Olympian roster

OLYMPIA FIELDS — Coach Bill Sneddon makes his debut as coach of the Olympians this season, and will lead a small but eager team into the Southeast Suburban Football Conference wars.

Sneddon replaces Chuck Colin, who gave up the head coaching job to devote fulltime to his duties as athletic director.

Sneddon has been a member of the Rich grid staff for the past five years the last two as sophomore coach. In his first year of guiding the sophomores the team had a 6-3 mark and tied for the league crown. Last year they had a 9-0 record and won the underclassmen title.

Coach Sneddon starts the season with 12 lettermen back from a 1971 squad that had a 2-7 record. Sneddon, who does not have a starter over 200 pounds in the line-up, plans to put the emphasis on quickness for the 1972 Olympians.

Returning veteran Earl Stutriem, who plays both offense and defense, heads the end corps, along with two juniors Tom Biggis, a defensive specialist and Paul Ratje.

Mike Kocmond, is a returning letterman at tackle, and he and Mike Kotoff are the heaviest at the position at 190 pounds. Junior Mike Mullarkey, 185, is another tackle.

Two experienced hands are set at guard where lettermen Steve Aldridge and Bruce Artwohl are back. Aldridge at 195-pounds is among the teams bigger men. Junior Jim Greci also plays guard.

make the snap.

Sneddon has an experienced signal caller in senior Tom Moore, who will be backed by Bob Mahler, a junior..

The running game will up to a pair of seniors, Ron Garvick, and John Lowney along with juniors Jim Bullock and Bill Klein.

On defense Mullarkey and junior Bret Schiffer, will handle the tackles, with Junior Steve Tolar and Jeff Shank at linebacker.

1972 Crete Monee High School Warriors

“Better days are ahead” says Crete - Monee Warrior coach

CRETE-MONEE — In the last two seasons Crete-Monee High School Warriors have been one of the easy teams in the Southeast Suburban Conference.

Under coach Neale Miller, the team has won only twice in the last two seasons. Miller and his 1972 warriors insist, however, that better days are ahead.

Last year the Warriors had a good defensive unit, but it was without the needed staying power. The defense would be fine for part of the game and then would weaken, allowing the other team to score freely.

This season again Miller hopes to place the emphasis on defense. He will be concentrating on having defense play a whole game at peak performance.

Miller has 12 lettermen returning from last year, and all of them have plenty of varsity experience, both offense and defense.

With an experienced team Miller will also be able to use his players better this season, allowing a number of the players to concentrate on either offense or defense rather than going two ways.

The Warriors will be led by a pair of powerful line veterans, who are expected to give the team a big morale boost. The two are Jawn Bauer, 6-3, 222 pounds, and Chris Evans, a 6-1, 200 pounds. Evans was a regular at center last year and Bauer played the line on both offense and defense.

The Warriors open their season Saturday, Sept. 16, when they host Rich East in a non-conference game. The game was originally scheduled for Rich East, but was moved to Crete because sod work on the Rockets field was not ready for action.

1972 Tinley Park High School Titans

Titans hope to stay in champ competition

TINLEY PARK — A better balanced offensive attack, more deception on the attack, as well as the use of more players is the type of football program Jim Fredenberger, Tinley Park grid coach, has planned to keep his Titans in championship contention this year.

Fredenberger starts his fifth season as varsity mentor, and under his guidance the Titans have had their best grid years. Tinley finished second in the Southeast Suburban Conference the last two years and had a solid 7-1 mark in 1971.

Despite the strong showing in recent years the Titan coach would still like to win a title. Last year the Titans had a good shot at the crown, only to lose in an upset to the eventual champion Stagg.

Fredenberger has seven lettermen back from last year's team, but lost a host of stars like Mike Kraft, Tom Kunzer, Mike Meloy, Kirby Bullard, Vince Pignetello, Mike Marrone and Randy Lindstrom.

Last year Kraft and Kunzer provided virtually all of the offense for the Titans.

Another loss came in the coaching ranks where one of Fredenberger's able assistants Tim Reeves left the school faculty for another position. Ted Gunaka, the other varsity assistant, remains to aid Fredenberger.

Kraft was one of the areas' finest halfback and an all-conference selection as well as the team's leading scorer, and time after time was virtually unstoppable even with defenses consistently keyed on him.

Kunzer directed the attack at quarterback, and while he passed well he also proved to be an outstanding runner getting away for a number of long gains during the season.

First choice to replace Kunzer this season will be veteran letterman Ed. Neal. Neal saw limited service on offense last season behind Kunzer, but was one of the team's top defensive performers at safety. Neal a strong runner is supplemented by Tim Framke, who quarterbacked the sophs last year, and Charles Lester, who was signal caller for the junior varsity.

Fredenberger hopes that this trio will provide more of a passing attack than last season. Balancing out the running will be two pairs of juniors up from the sophs, Dan Bulow and Charles Skinulis, and Curt Zabaty and Rod Bothwell. Bulow also plays linebacker on defense and Skinulis is a defensive end. Other halfbacks are Dave Grega, a senior, and Bill Fix, a junior.

Veteran George Miles, who saw most of his action on defense in 1971 appears to be top candidate for fullback. Joe Bogdan, who played defensive end last season is another fullback candidate, as is George Booth up from the jayvees.

Darrell Kimsey is a veteran lineman and middle linebacker who gets first call at center. He will be backed by a pair of boys up from the sophs, Wayne Kinnally and Brad Bose.

Offensive tackle duties will probably fall to Rich Fox and Larry Johnson. Both saw service on the jayvees in 1971.

Rich Aggen, at 270 pounds, is the biggest man on the squad, and the veteran will anchor the defensive line. Glen Miller makes his grid debut and John Van Dyke and Dave Weakley are up from the sophs.

Weakley has missed the early practice sessions because of a summer injury. The veteran back and linebacker figures as offensive guard along with Terry Caliban, another veteran. Jeffer Ali, Rick Zolner and Dave Smith round out the guards.

Terry Shannon, the team's regular split end last year, returns at the same position. Steve Bettenhausen, who at 225 is the second largest man on the team, will work at tight end, and may see service as linebacker. Other end candidates are Charles Schultz, who was injured in the first game last year and sat out the rest of the year, Ed Scott, Wayne Barnas, Tom Matthews and Bill Burgee.

The Titans will open their season Saturday, Sept. 16, hosting Lincoln-Way in a non-conference game at 2 p.m.

Youthful Bengal squad faces seasoned teams

OAK FOREST — At Oak Forest High School the Bengal football team is a step ahead of the times. Although Oak Forest will not have its first senior class until the 1973-74 school year, Coach Dan Wile and his 32-member sophomore-junior squad will face a full schedule against varsity teams this season.

The Bengals will play an eight game schedule, starting Sept. 16, when they host Glenbard South at 2 p.m.

With the exception of an October outing against the Thornwood junior varsity all the rest of the Bengal foes are regular varsity units.

Although Wile will be sending only junior and sophomores against seniors on other teams the Bengal coach is in a position that many another grid mentor would envy, he has not lost a player by graduation in the past two years, and has basically the same team he started with as freshmen two years ago.

In their first year of competition against freshmen teams the Bengals under Wile had a 2-6 mark. Last year with almost the same team, now sophomores and playing frosh-soph and soph units the team had a 7-1 record.

This season most of the Bengals will be playing their third year together, and will make an all out effort to compete with the "Big Boys."

"We will be smaller then most of our opponents, but this is a team with good speed. I don't mean breakaway speed in the backfield, but overall speed. Our linemen are exceptionally quick, and they know they will have to use this ability to overcome the size advantage the other teams will have," Wile said.

"They also execute very well as a team. Don't forget most of the juniors on this team have been playing together for two full seasons now," Wile said.

Starting with split end in his Pro-I formation Wile has sophomore regulars, now juniors, Doug Olomon and Tim Gerdes, and junior John Wilson. Oloman has the good speed required for a split end and Gerdes is a defensive specialist who figures to see service on offense.

The tight end spot will probably go to junior Tony Darguzas, who played last year, and is one of the team's top blockers. Other tight end candidates are Russell Balenhorst, a junior transfer from Marist, and Mike Jackson, who played on the Oak Forest frosh last year.

Last year's regular tackles are back as juniors, Dave Foss and Bob Reno. Behind them is junior Tom Mayer, who missed part of the 1971 season with a knee injury. Other tackles are Bill Husar and Dan Browning, both up from the frosh.

Dave DiPaolo, a regular at center last year, figures as one starting guard, along with regular guard Bill Winlock.

Rick King, who played fullback last year, joins the guard corps as do juniors Ray Nolan and Mike Konar, both of whom played tight end last year. Tom Reid also is returning at guard.

Kevin Newquist, who worked behind DiPaolo at center last year is leading candidate for center duties with junior Paul Murphy and sophomore Tim Malone in reserve.

Mark Rapinchuk, the Bengals' leading runner from last year, is back along with Rory Pecsénye, who was the team's second best runner. Len Estes is up from the freshmen.

Dave Kohaus and Chuck Pease are two experienced quarterbacks. Kohaus started out calling the signals last year and Pease took over when Kohaus was injured.

The team's entire defensive unit returns virtually intact. Renna and Darguzas are at ends; Foss and Reno at tackle; Browning is nose guard; DiPaolo and King are line backers; Gerdes is rover back; safety is O'Connell; and the defensive backs are Rapinchuk and Pecsénye.

Spartan line shakes Illini 8 league foes

ROMEOVILLE — The name of the game may be defense for Romeoville's football team this year. Tony Fazio, who debuts as Spartan coach, has a front four that is sure to strike fear into even the boldest back in the Illini 8.

When the Spartans go on defense this year the opponents will face following awesome quartet toeing the line of scrimmage: Bill Allen, 240 pounds; John Otteman, 210-pounds; Perry Eischen, 230-pounds, and Renaldo Gonzalez, 220 pounds. If any of these four needs help Fazio can call on 240-pound Jeff Phad, who is one of the area's best offensive guards.

With this group the Spartans will be seeking to improve on last years 6-3 record, and a 4-3 mark in Illini 8 play.

Fazio starting his first season has 11 men lettermen from 1971.

The end crops is relatively inexperienced with three juniors up from the sophs at tight end: Roger Jones, Dan Perryman and Frank Grchan. Steve Strong a returning letterman is a split end, but most of Strong's experience last year was on defense. Steve Kovalcik, is a junior prospect.

Heinz Mihal, who didn't play regularly, but none the less saw quite a bit of action last season will likely work at one tackle. Otteman who is mainly a defensive linemen, where he lettered in 1971, and junior Mark Mayhew, are other tackle candidates.

Phad, who is one of the area's best, heads the guards. Senior Ed Wise lettered last year but his work was limited because of a bad knee. Eischen and John Prehn are both juniors up from the sophs.

Don Robertson, who saw limited action last season will work at center with junior Gary Spence.

John Boudouris a junior who lacks varsity experience is a quarterback as is senior John Stanton, who was hampered by a knee injury last year.

Bill Perkins, a regular at halfback last season, returns, as does Mike Garcia, who saw limited action in 1971. Two other backs are Rick Smolik, a junior, and senior Guy Mercado, an all-conference defensive back last season.

Fullback will be handled by a pair of returnees, Ray Navarro and John Kelly.

1972 Lemont High School Injuns

Injuns' war cry rings of hopes for victory

LEMONT — Depth in the line, and the ability of a large group of sophomores to adopt to varsity play are the keys to Lemont's grid hopes this season

Coach Jan Cralle starts his seventh season as the Injuns varsity leader and hopes to improve last year's 4-4 record and a third place finish in the Northeast Suburban Conference.

Cralle, who will have the luxury of being three to four men deep at all line positions, will be able to put a heavier team on the field than last year, and has an experienced defense corps.

If a host of sophomores from last season's conference co-champions, who posted a 7-1 record, can come along in varsity style, the Injuns will have more than their share of scalps this season.

Cralle has 12 lettermen returning from last year but a number of these saw limited varsity action in 1971.

The Injuns should be adequate at end which is headed by senior John Earnest, the team's leading pass receiver last year. End Ken Sniegowski is gone, and his spot probably will be filled by Al Bromberek, a veteran letterman.

Charles Dvorak and Renne Jacobson are a pair of juniors who played for the sophs last season at end.

Heading the corps is veteran all-conference Tim Scholy. Scholy transferred from Riverside-Brookfield last year in time to play for the Injuns, and used his 198-pounds so well that he outclassed a number of heavier foes.

The rest of the tackle corps will come from last year's sophomore crop, which will provide some big ones, like Bob Johnson at 210; Jim Driscoll at 230; and Mark Allen, 220.

Tim Rupert and Bill Luchowski, also up from the sophs, give the position added depth.

Veteran Terry Duffy will work at Guard. Duffy is also key to a sparkling defense where he earned all-area honors at linebacker in 1971. Mike Zurn is another veteran at guard, with Bob Pekofske, Ken Zzulka and Mark Fisher all up from the sophs.

Another veteran Bob Doris will play center, backed by Jack Bambrick and Bruce Turczynski, both of whom toiled for the sophs last season.

Flanker back will be headed by John Vivaldelli, who lettered last year, but saw limited service. Dwyane Koski, Ed Davis, Mark Barnett and Tim Tredway, all from the soph squad, round out the flanker candidates.

Cralle lost two of his top running backs, Dwayne Slayton and Jim Weck, through graduation, but a third regular back who made it as a junior last year, Scott Barnett, returns. Bob Rhoeder is another experienced hand, but most of his playing time was on defense. Rich Burba has limited varsity experience. Jim Hutchinson is up from the sophs.

The back field has limited experience.

Cralle employs the I-formation most of the time, and the backs change positions frequently.

Bob Smith, another defensive specialist, and Dan Lipowski, playing for the first time this season, are among the runners.

Rich Jajusz, who played some quarterback as a sophomore behind Jim Otto is back to call signals, along with Ken Sniegowski up from the sophs.

On defense the Injuns should be solid. Duffy and Barnett are strong linebackers, and Earnest and Smith are veterans cornerbacks with Rhoeder in the defensive secondary.

Support the many fine business and professional men who generously donate their time and efforts to insure another successful football season.

Porters to defend crown with experience, depth

LOCKPORT — The Porters of Lockport Central High School open the 1972 season as defending champs of the Illini 8 Conference.

Coach Bill Zimmer has an experienced crew with which to defend the grid crown, but the title road in Illini 8 sports is usually a difficult one, and the defending champs frequently find it hard to repeat because of the league's overall balance.

Zimmer has six offensive regulars back from last year's team which had a 7-2 mark. On defense Zimmer can put five regulars from last year on the field, and those five are among the six offensive regulars.

On defense Zimmer will have five of his offensive regulars, who worked both ways last year, doing it again this year. Size wise the Porters should be in good shape. Zimmer has four starting offensive linemen over 200 pounds, and last year where he had three men over 200 pounds on the team he has eight this year.

Of the group over 200, four are junior reserves, Gene Bottolf, Rod Zalatel, Larry Pavlich, and Tom Yieniak.

Zimmer has three tight ends all of whom lettered last year, but none of the trio was a regular at the position. The three are: Larry Bowlin, Tom Aloisio and Nick Peters. Peters also kicks extra points and field goals.

Robb Novander, is a returning regular at split end backed by Jeff Major and John Lowery, juniors up from the sophs.

Mark Mufich, a regular at tackle last year weighs in at 205, and his junior mate is Steve Stout, at 233.

Tom Talarico (225) is a returning regular at guard, along with Steve Smith, who lettered last year.

Charles Turley, at 205, returns for another year at the starting center spot.

Mike Zimmer, a junior up from the sophs, will start at quarterback with Novander and John Rende in reserve. Rende is a returning regular at one of the halfback posts, along with another returning regular Larry Spinks. Mark Pesevento, a junior, is top candidate for fullback.

On defense Turley, Talarico, Rende, Spinks and Novander form the nucleus of an experienced unit.

1972 Carl Sandburg High School Eagles

Sandburg's new mentor confronts loss of power

ORLAND PARK — Cliff Eade makes his debut as head grid coach at Carl Sandburg High School this season, with the Eagles coming off one of their poorer seasons. Actually Sandburg turned in a respectable 5-3 record in 1971, but for the Eagles, a perennial power in the South-west Suburban Conference and the area in general, losing more than one game equals a bad season. Eade has a team lacking in depth this season, and many of the boys will go both ways; but if the Eagles stay healthy, they could be right in the thick of the conference fight. The biggest problem Eade faces is finding a quarterback to replace star

Dave Lumley, a 1972 graduate, Veteran Bill Nelson is a possibility, but Nelson is to valuable as a defensive back to be used on offense regularly. Senior Wally Atkenson is also a quarterback candidate, as is junior Larry Lindeman. Eade calls Lindeman his "best passer of the three."

Rusty Vincent, who was ineligible last season, is bidding for a fullback job. Vincent, at 195-pounds, has exceptional speed for a line smasher running the 40-yards in .4:8.

Veteran Bill Hammertree heads the halfbacks corps, and also provides strength as a linebacker. Mike McNicholas is a good breakaway runner and Rick Schlinger is making a strong bid for a starting role. Junior Bob Nagle is an able reserve.

The Eagles will have a good size offensive line anchored by Dave Ketterman, 215-pounds, at center. Eade will choose from three guards: junior Chuck Range, 195; senior Makr Erickson, 190; or senior Earl Hammond, 205.

Tackles are Ken Monfries and Bruce Mack. Steve Nelson figures at tight end, with Dan Lindeman and Jeff Hernandez as other end candidates.

Knights looking toward more wins this season

NEW LENOX — After a year in the football wilderness and a 23-game losing streak, the Lincoln-Way Knights came out of the forest last year to post a 3-5 record under Coach Joe Rodriquez, and turn in a surprisingly strong performance in the Southwest Suburban Conference, for their best record since 1961.

The Knights at long last appear to be on the move on the gridiron. Much of the success of the Knights this season rests on Rodriquez finding a replacement for graduated star Doug Handorf.

Handorf scored 54 of the teams 88 points in conference play last season and was the key to the Knights' resurgence.

However, Rodriquez has a trio of experienced backs in Blake Terkotte, Tim Virden and Jim Kollman which figure to provide the Knights with a potent and more balanced attack then last year.

This impressive running trio is guided by quarterback Brian Fischer. Fischer earned a starting roll as a junior last year, boasts a strong arm, and with a year of regular play under his belt should gain by his experience. Fischer also plays defensive back. Other signal callers include John Cumbee and Andrew Jones.

Rodriquez has a host of small scat-back type runners to back the previously mentioned backfield trio of Kollman, Terkotte and Virden.

The scats are Larry Jett, 131 pounds; Dave McCune, 146 pounds; Robert Moore, 165 pounds; and Gary and Larry Varner, 145 pounds.

Center is a three-way fight among Joe Bolek, Paul Kessel and Dennis Thatcher.

Phil Hull is a top defensive end, but Rodriquez had only 31 boys turn out for the varsity, meaning Hull along with a number of other players will have to do double duty this season, with Hull working at offensive tackle.

Rodriquez will have Scott Weiclaw at 250-pounds and Dale Riddenhorf, 180, on defense.

Craig Backus is a veteran guard with Richard Chereskin, Burce Handorf, John Heniff and Tim Loftus, also ready for guard duties.

Tim Grimmer is a veteran end. Other end candidates are Greg Chellino, Tim Connor, Ed Hovi, Greg Konicki and Gary Laski.

Devine responsible for Eagles' strength

By Dave Lumley

ORLAND PARK — In 1954, a young man came to Orland Park to be head football coach and athletic director of a new suburban school called Carl Sandburg High School.

The school had less than 800 students then and a football reputation of zero. The man was named Joe Devine and this was to be his first real chance as a big time leader.

Now 18 years later and 105 career victories Joe Devine will be watching the Eagles of Sandburg from the stands instead of from the field of battle. Devine, as many coaches and sport-writers have said, put southwest high school football on the map. Winning three championships in his last five years and 39 games out of the last 46, Devine decided it was time to move on.

"There are some things I miss, like the kids and the excitement but there are also many things I don't miss, like trying to keep up the morale and keeping everything together," said Devine. Also, "the season is a lot of fun, but the responsibility of keeping everybody working is tough."

Joe Devine turned out nine all-state ball players including All-American Ernie Sharpe and present starting fullback Mike Navarro of the University of Illinois.

Devine enjoyed the maturing of his athletes he saw week by week and doesn't think much has really changed since his first year as far as kids and football goes. "It's a lot of baloney that the kids have changed, that they don't pay the price. Every kid has to pay to play and the kids today are playing better than their old man did. Back 20 years ago we stood in line, did our pushups and came out. It's different now. The kids are playing close to pro ball as it was back in the World War II stages."

Devine is a firm believer in kids and that they will do what you ask them. Finally, if you happen to be at a Sandburg game this fall and hear an old pro calling the plays to his wife, listen in, it just might be somebody called Joe Devine: a living legend at Carl Sandburg high school.

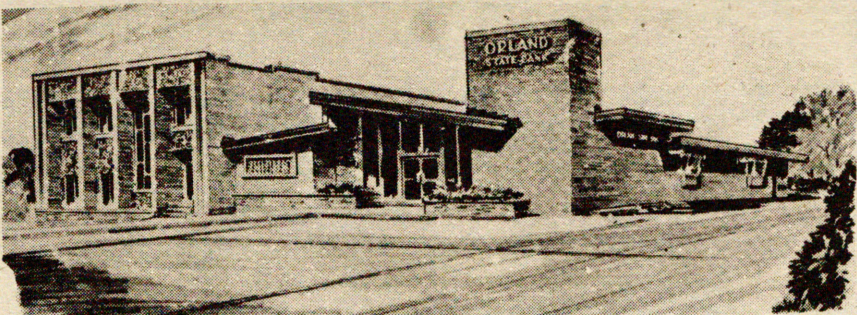

Eagle products show promise on college turf

ORLAND PARK — Three Carl Sandburg athletes have broken into the starting lineups at their respective colleges.

Bill Edwards, an all-conference and all-area tackle from last year's 5-3 Eagle outfit, has taken over as middle guard at the University of Iowa due to his outstanding play and an injury to senior Jerry Bensen. Bill is a resident of Oak Forest.

Jim Koranda and Dave Demetral, both standouts on last year's club are playing regularly for small Wabash College of Indiana. Koranda is a fullback with Demetral at defensive end. Both live in Palos Park.
